Miss Blanca will always be in my heart. She loved to tell me stories about the country of Panama, where she was from. She told me about all the bananas you could ever want, they were hanging everywhere. One story that she told repeatedly was about a traffic light, Blanca would say, Lisa you know the stop light, the red, yellow and green one? I would say yes. Then she would say you know how I speak spanish and you speak english? I would say yes. Then Blanca would say you know the green light? I would would say yes. Blanca would say Lisa green go. We would laugh every time she this to me. When I was there with her we read the bible together. Blanca was the sweetest lady. When her family came to visit, the smile on her face was priceless. She was so proud of her family. I will miss Blanca more than anyone would ever know. Lisa Garcia
