I met Sandra in the Tucson Baptist Choir. We were both tenors and often joked about the fact we were in the minority among a men's section. I loved hearing her share because it was always interesting. She loved children as much as singing but she made no bones about her love for our Savior. I will miss her smile and seeing her in the choir but I'm sure the choir she now sings in, will be the most amazing joy as she worships the Lord. See you soon, Sandra!

It was amazing to see how Sandra's eyes lit up when she talked about her students or a project they were working on. She was definitely the complete, passionate, love-on-the-kids, and find-the-best-in-each-of-them kind of teacher! So thankful for her years of sowing into little lives!! Now she sings in the King's choir...along with her parents who went before her and all the saints through the ages! Her race is run and won! Prayers and hugs for Janet and family who will miss her so.

I met Sandra through Janet (her sister). I immediately loved Sandra and her quick but dry wit. She always had very interesting topics to discuss and her view point on most topics was either entertaining or informational (one of my favorite things when talking with Sandra). Her love for the Lord was evident with out a word being spoken from her month and she glowed when singing in the Choir. Sandra will be greatly missed, but I know that she is already singing to her hearts content in the Heavenly Choir. I can almost here her singing .... Holy, Holy, Holy is the Lord God our Almighty with a glow around her that we cannot yet comprehend. See you soon Sandra.

I met Sandra at Tucson Baptist church. She loved singing in the choir and loved teaching the children at school. I loved her smile as she greeted me in the foyer. You are missed Sandra. Will see you soon.
