Just found out today that my sister Judi has passed away - what a sad shock~! We had different mothers, but resembled each other greatly, like full sisters. In life we were never close, just too many years different in age and lived too far away. A generation apart. I had tried to reach out to her but no response for some time, so finally faced the fact that perhaps Judi was gone. A sadness is in my heart, for the sister I never really knew. But I admired her intellect and her great love for her animals. Rest in peace my Dear Sister. LIBBY BAIER-BECKWITH

Hi Libby, With sorrow, I just found this obituary for Judi. I too was trying to reach out to her as I had lost her email several years ago. We used to enjoy a friendly relationship and I have missed her. I have some lovely pictures of her as a young woman that I had wanted to send her. She was the ex-wife of my beloved late husband, Professor Clark A. Kucheman. If you would like these pictures, I would love to send them to you. I could scan them and send via email or even text I suppose. My name is Melody Kucheman Luna. Here is my facebook link if you would care to write back.

Judi was a friend of mine for many years. Her love of animals and nature mean't everything to her. She was there for me over the years. I will never forget her. I loved her.

Judi and I were long-distance friends for nearly ten years. We supported each other even though we never met in person. I will always miss her.
