Ruthann lived on the same block as me and I always enjoyed her visits and chats, one day she saw me working in the yard and pulled in to chat she had one of her dogs with her, as we chatted I asked her for her youngest dog named Mojo and she said " Can't you see Mojo? He is right here in the seat"? I said that's not Mojo, she said, he is!, she looked carefully at the dog and her eyes got huge and she realized it was her other dog Kahlua, she backed out the yard drove home a returned with both dogs and we continued our nice chat. A very wonderful friend and neighbor. May she RIP.

I was blessed and fortunate enough to participate in two different family birthdays. One was a celebration of everybody's birthday who was on around that date. And the other one was Diane's birthday and it was a painting and wine drinking party. I got to see first hand how much love was between all those family members. It was fun watching the grandkids joke around with their grandma. The sibling rivalry between Jeffrey and Diane. She had an amazing sense of humor and she could dish out as well as she took. What a privilege it was to be a part of those two special occasions. She was loved by all and would be missed by many. So sorry for your loss. Hugs to all of you.
