Jean Helene Glassberg

MAY 8, 1937 - MAY 29, 2025

Jean Glassberg, died May 29, 2025, three weeks after her 88th birthday. Born in the Bronx, NY, her family moved to Phoenix, Arizona for a healthier life for her brother who suffered from Asthma. She arrived in Phoenix in time to begin high school but always considered herself a “Bronx girl”. After meeting her husband, who went to the University of Arizona, the two moved to Tucson to start their family.

With a passion for education and for helping children, Jean graduated from Arizona State University and began what was a long and successful teaching career in Tucson, teaching 4th and 5th grade at District One (now TUSD) schools for more than 30 years, retiring in 1999. She was loved by her students who still remember her fondly for her patience, kindness and for instilling in them a love of learning.

Jean’s greatest passions were for her family and her friends. She loved and she was loved, becoming a second mom to her children’s friends and classmates and becoming a second “Goggy” (what the grandkids called her) to her grandchildren’s friends. She never missed a grandchild’s game or a match, proudly cheering them on, almost as enthusiastically as she cheered on her University of Arizona Wildcats Basketball team!

Jean was an avid reader and the consummate hostess, joyfully hosting holiday and dinners, brunches and other celebrations. She loved to exercise, walking at least two miles daily and even more in the summers. The beach was her escape from the Tucson heat, and she could be found in San Diego, Coronado or Oceanside, CA each summer, soaking up the sun, collecting shells and enjoying time with her children and grandchildren. She loved good food and especially a glass of red wine at the end of each day.

Predeceased by her husband of 60 years, Marvin Glassberg, Jean is survived by her children, Sharon (Alan Rockowitz) and Steven (Sandra Gallagher), and eight grandchildren: Adam & Aaron Bukani, Sarah Rockowitz, Jonah (Jessica Keating) Rockowitz, Connor & Kelsey Glassberg, Sedona

I was one of Mrs. Glassberg's children's friends who felt like she was my second mom. My first memories of her were in 6th grade when she would substitute for Mr. Cohen who was great. But her warm smile and chipper personality really lit up our classroom. In later years when going over to visit she made me feel so welcome and appreciated. Her passover break-fasts were the event of the year as far as I'm concerned. She will be sorely missed but I'll always have such good memories that made a real impact on my life.
