“ Hi mommy, just thinking of you and I miss you. I stood outside today and watered your plants. I always see a beautiful red bird come and sit on the bird feeder or on the tree across the house. I know it's you mommy. Earlier I asked you for the bird to visit me again and once I turned around the bird was sitting on the tree. It really warmed my heart and I know you hear me momma. I love you and miss you my angel.

“ Hi mommy, a whole month now, time flies, I miss you more than words can explain. I wish I wasn't feeling all of this pain. I love you and wish I could hold you one more time and tell you how much you mean to me and how beautiful you are. Being able to see your beautiful smile one more time would mean everything to me. I'm taking care of dad, the kids, Julian, everyone momma. I'm doing it and I'm trying my hardest to stay strong. I know you watch down on us everyday and give us the strength to keep going and keep being positive for each other. I miss calling you every morning to say Goodmorning and check on you, see how you were doing and spending hours on the phone talking about random stuff I miss going over, spending the night , going with you to take dad to work, then coming back and drinking coffee with you while watching tv, or having lunch with you and you always wanted Burger King. Taking drives with you and just spending time together. I would've never thought that night would be the last time I told you I loved you. My heart hurts so much and feels so broken without you. I wish I would be able to hold you again forever. I know you're in heaven now and you're with the Lord, he's taking care of u and guiding you the way. I miss you momma and think about you every day. I miss u more than ever, my best friend, my other half, the best mother in the whole wide world. I know you send me signs that you're there momma, I see butterflies , hummingbirds and even thinking I hear your favorite song playing sometimes when it's not and I know it's you, sometimes your songs actually do come on the radio and I know it's definitely you mommy. You were a beautiful woman. Rest in heaven mommy, I love you! 🦋

“ Hey momma! As I sit here all I can think about is you and all the memories we have. Words can't begin to explain how much I miss and love you. I always feel like giving up but I never do because I know pops and my siblings need me. All the pain built up inside of me tries to take over but I never let it I continue to push through with the biggest smile on my face. I'm doing it all for you and even though you're not here physically I know you're always by my side holding my hand and pushing me to be the best. I always told you how much I loved you and I know you know that if I could I'd do ANYTHING possible just to sit in the car with you one more time and have a little time like when we would laugh at videos on Facebook or we would just talk. You were always so gorgeous in my eyes momma and nothing can change that. You finally gained your wings ama.. I love you so much momma watch over us while you're up there - angelina

“ I love and miss you more than words can explain. Thank you for being the best mother in law a girl could ask for, I was grateful enough to have experienced such a beautiful soul like yours. I'll make sure to tell Aubrielle all about you and how much her nana loved and adored her. I promise you I'll always take care of Memo and your little princess. I know you're watching us from God's kingdom, until we meet again my beautiful suegra

“ Hi mom, I miss you more than ever. You were my absolute world. I miss you mommy. I think about you everyday and miss you more and more everyday that goes by. You were such a beautiful woman and loved your family so so much. I cherished every single beautiful moment I had with you. A woman of faith. You never let negativity bring you down and you always taught me that.it's been three weeks and two days since you grew your wings, and I know you're watching down on us all, smiling down on us with your beautiful smile that could light up the whole room.till we meet again in heaven momma, I want you to know I absolutely miss you and love you more than words can explain. Rest easy my beautiful angel. From your daughter, Lizette.
