“ I met Layne in 7th grade at La Cima middle school. I remember she tried to start a fight with me and I wouldn't fight her. Later that day I walked with her home and found out she was just scared to be the new girl. From that moment on I never left her side we were inseparable. Through out our ups and downs we stayed in touch by phone. I'm so sorry I wasn't there for you more. Your smile could light up a room and your laugh was contagious. I love you Layne forever and ever. See you in the afterlife. All my love.

“ Layne was my best friend in 6th grade. I have so many memories of her and her family. We had so much fun together. She lived in a house off Orange Grove and I lived in the apartments next door. I loved to go to her house and swim. Her mom Cydni would watch us in the pool with Morgan and Taylor.

We laughed, swam, played and stayed up all night. I remembered she loved the SF 49ers. I didn't even know what football teams were back then but she was a fan and her room had with red and gold stuff. I remember she had the most amazing white whicker bedroom furniture.

Her mom and Aunt Darcy were so much fun. They took us on adventures and they treated me as if I was theirs. I loved seeing Morgan and Taylor play because I had no siblings and the relationships between the girls were so fun. The love between Layne and Zack was undeniable, although they fought like cats and dogs at that age. He was always too cool for us.

Layne and I would have late nights at her house, laughing and doing what young girls do. We would sneak out sometimes and go down the street to throw toilet paper into the trees. I remember staying on the roof throwing oranges from the trees. So many fun memories.

Layne was always the coolest to me. I was awed by her beauty; her smile, her laugh, her amazing spirit. She was my best friend. When I moved away, we tried to keep in touch but it was harder back then. I went to Amphi and we saw each other often but hardly kept in touch. I haven't seen her in over 15 years but thought of her often. Every memory I have of Layne makes me smile because SHE WAS ALWAYS SMILING.

I looked at photos and one of us on the donkeys in Nogales makes me laugh. I am confident it was her idea to sit on the donkeys for a photo. She was always full of life. I wish she was here to help me remember how we got to Nogales in 1996. Did we take ourselves, did Cydni take us, or did my mom take us? We may never know.

I am so sad that Layne's life was cut short. May her beauty resonate through memories of her and through the beautiful boys she brought into the world.

“ Where to begin...I have so many wonderful, crazy and amazing stories. We may have lost touch in the past 10 years, but she was apart of a huge chunk of my life. I keep seeing the words "she loved fiercely ". That is the best way to describe her. Whether you were part of her family or a friend, she loved you no matter what, and she did it deeply. She was kind, giving and selfless. Crazy as a get out and fearless. Another story of firsts.....Cyd took us tubing for the first time for me when we were teenagers. It was a first of many trips for me where for some strange reason I ended up with 1 or no shoes. Always a challenge in the heat of AZ 100° heat and absolutely no shade to stand in on the long walk back to the bus. Any-who ...We decided...let's be honest...Layne decided we should go cliff jumping. Of course, I was like OK Layne. Without a seconds thought, she ran and jumped in. The second she hit the water she was yelling "Jump Andrea"! "It was amazing"! Needless to say...I was like...shoot! Is it easier to crawl back down or jump? Well, Layne somehow had everyone floating down the river screaming...."Jump Andrea"!

(At least 30 people to give you an idea of the pressure) And guess what? I did! It was amazing! I can tell you to this day, if someone asked you to jump off a bridge, would you? I can honestly say yes and I don't think another sole on this planet could have convinced me otherwise. Back to the missing shoe, it survived the jump, but failed the fight against the current as we swam to the other side. I would give anything to tell her one last time that I love her!

“ Layne. My big, cool, gorgeous, funny, life of the party sister. I have so many images and your voice flashing before my eyes leading up to this point that I don't even know where to begin. All I know is I had the best time being your sister. Graduations, witnessing each other's births, hanging out, driving around and watching every single persons around jaw drop from your beauty and personality. I always felt I was in the presence of a real life super star. To me you were. I showed your picture around happy to even know you... and you being MY big sister, well, I was the cool kid now. You taught us so much, you loved us even more, and you never ever let us settle. I will miss your laugh and jokes the most. I'm heartbroken.

“ Layne's laugh...that will be and still is the thing I hear in my head. She was so funny and so loving. It is a tragic loss to the whole family. I am glad that Leonard was there to greet her and know she will be watching all the hoopla. Remember her with a smile and the sly look she always gave when not sure if she could believe what you were saying or not. Rest peaceful Layne.
